This Privacy Policy describes how Future Technologies Venture, LLC (“Future Technologies,” “we,” “us,” or “our”) collects, uses, shares, and protects personal information when you communicate or interact with us, including through our website (the “Services”). It does not cover information collected offline or under a separate signed agreement.

If you are a resident of California, please review the additional notice that applies to you.

Information we collect

Depending on the nature of your interaction with Future Technologies, we may collect personal information as follows:

Information you provide such as:

Account information, including your name, email address, and selected password when you create a Future Technologies account.

Contact information, including your name, email address, telephone number, and any other information you choose to include when you communicate with us.

Employment-related information, such as your employer and job title.

Any additional information you choose to provide, including questions, suggestions, and feedback.

Information collected automatically, device information and user activity through cookies and other technologies, when you visit our Services as described below.

From third parties, information about the marketing and advertisements you have seen or clicked on, from online advertising companies.

We do not intentionally collect sensitive personal information through the Services, and ask that you not submit it through a form unless we have requested it through a secure channel.

Cookies and tracking technologies

Certain information is automatically collected from you when you interact with our Services. This information includes:

Usage details about your interaction with our Services, such as the date, time, and length of visits, specific pages or content accessed during the visits, search terms, frequency of the visits, and referring address.

Device information about the device you use to access our Services, such as IP address, device type, unique device identifier, operating system, browser type, and mobile network information.

Location information where you choose to provide our Services with access to information about your device's location.

Much of this information is collected through cookies and other tracking technologies, which may be operated by our partners who assist us in providing the Services, understanding usage of the Services, serving ads, and security and fraud prevention. Please note we load only strictly necessary technologies by default and request your consent for all non-essential cookies.

You have options to limit how cookies and other tracking technologies collect information about your online activity:

You can change your cookie preferences at any time using the "Cookie preferences" link in the footer. Please note that you will need to set preferences on each web browser and device you use to visit our Services.

Generally, you can modify your browser setting to disable or reject cookies across the internet; but if you do so, some features of our Services may not function properly or be available. Please note that you will need to set preferences on each web browser and device you use to visit our Services.

Because definitions and rules for "Do Not Track" have not yet been established, including whether such signals must be user-enabled, we do not respond to "Do Not Track" signals. If your browser offers you the ability to use Global Privacy Control (GPC) to communicate your privacy preferences to us, we honor such signals.

You may be able to prevent third parties from using your information for interest-based advertisements across the internet by visiting the NAI or the Digital Advertising Alliance. Please note this does not opt you out of being served ads, nor will it prevent the receipt of interest-based advertising from other companies that do not participate in these programs.

You may also opt out of third-party cookies we use by visiting their opt out pages. These are examples of our cookie providers, but the list is not exhaustive. In addition, we are not responsible for the effectiveness of any of these opt-out mechanisms:

We use Google Analytics to collect usage details. You can learn more about Google Analytics here and opt out of collection of your data by using the Google Analytics Opt-out Browser Add-on.

How we use information

We use the personal information we collect to:

Respond to your inquiries, provide requested Services, manage business relationships, provide account and customer support, and provide important notices.

Create and maintain accounts.

Manage, maintain, and operate the Services; diagnose or fix technology problems; monitor the performance of the Services; analyze user preferences and trends; and understand how you access and use the Services.

Design and administer marketing and promotional campaigns; send you marketing emails; and evaluate the effectiveness of these campaigns.

Improve the Services; grow our business; better understand our user base; administer surveys for market research; and develop new products and Services.

Comply with legal requirements; defend against legal claims or other demands; respond to subpoena, court order, or other legal process or request; protect the rights of Future Technologies, you, or others; and detect, investigate, and prevent activities that may violate our policies or be fraudulent or illegal.

Perform internal administration, auditing, and operations activities.

We may use and share information in an aggregated or de-identified manner at our discretion, including for research, analysis, modeling, marketing, and improvement of our Services.

How we share information

We may share the information we collect in the following instances:

With service providers that perform a technology or other professional function for us, such as IT, customer support, analytics, and other professional services.

With affiliates and other entities in our corporate family for purposes consistent with this Privacy Policy.

With advertising partners who assist us in serving advertising to others who may be interested in the Services. These third parties may use tracking technologies to collect or receive information from the Services and elsewhere on the internet and use that information to provide measurement services and target ads. These advertising partners may allow other companies to access information about you so that they may market other products you may be interested in.

When a corporate event occurs, we reserve the right to transfer to another entity or its affiliates or service providers some or all information about you in connection with, or during negotiations of, any merger, acquisition, sale of assets or any line of business, change in ownership control, or financing transaction. We cannot promise that an acquiring party or the merged entity will have the same privacy practices or treat your information the same as described in this Privacy Policy.

We may disclose information to comply with law or legal process, to establish, protect, or exercise our legal rights, as required to enforce our terms of use or other contracts, to defend against legal claims or demands, or to detect, investigate, prevent, or take action against illegal activities, fraud, or situations involving potential threats to the rights, property, or personal safety of any person.

Privacy choices

You have the following choices relating to your information:

If you have an account, you can review and update certain account information, such as your contact information, by logging in.

If you no longer wish to receive marketing emails from us, you can click the unsubscribe link at the bottom of our marketing emails. Please note that you may continue to receive transactional messages from us, including messages related to required support or your account.

How we protect and store information

We use a combination of physical, technical, and administrative safeguards to protect the information we collect through the Services. While we use these precautions to safeguard your information, we cannot guarantee the security of the networks, systems, servers, devices, and databases we operate or that are operated on our behalf. If you use our Services outside of the United States, you understand that we may collect, process, and store your personal information in the United States and other countries.

Children's privacy

The Services are business-to-business and not directed to children, and we do not knowingly collect personal information from anyone under 18. If you believe a child has provided us information, contact us and we will delete it.

Third-party links

The Services may link to third-party websites and services we do not control (for example partner services, scheduling, or support portals). Their privacy practices are governed by their own policies. We encourage you to review those policies directly.

Changes to this policy

We may update this policy from time to time. Changes are effective when posted with an updated "Last updated" date. If we make material changes to this Privacy Policy, we will notify you as necessary through written, electronic, or other means.

Additional notice: California residents

As a California resident, you have the right to receive certain disclosures regarding our collection, use, and disclosure of your personal information, as well as certain rights to your personal information. California residents will not receive discriminatory treatment for exercising these privacy rights.

Collection, Use, and Retention

The following chart describes our practices about the collection, use, and retention of your information. The categories we use to describe the information are those listed in California law. Some of the categories include very different types of information within the same category and certain personal information may fall into multiple categories. How we use and how long we keep the information within each category will vary, and not all types of information within the same category will be used for all the purposes listed.

Category

Required Information

Personal identifiers

Examples of what we collect: Name, email address, physical address, unique identifiers (such as those assigned in cookies)

Sources: Directly from you; from third parties

Purpose of collection and use: All purposes listed in How we use information

Retention Considerations: Certain information is maintained throughout our relationship with you in order to provide the Services. When we no longer provide Services to you, we may still need this information for a period of time for business and legal requirements.

Personal information categories listed in the California Customer Records statute

Examples of what we collect: Telephone number, address

Sources: Directly from you; from third parties

Purpose of collection and use: All purposes listed in How we use information

Retention Considerations: Certain information is maintained throughout our relationship with you in order to provide the Services. When we no longer provide Services to you, we may still need this information for a period of time for business and legal requirements.

Internet or other similar network activity

Examples of what we collect: Device ID, browsing history, search history, IP address, interaction with a website

Sources: Automatically from you; third parties

Purpose of collection and use: All purposes listed in How we use information

Retention Considerations: Internet or other similar network activity is typically deleted at regular intervals when the information is no longer necessary for the purpose for which it was collected.

Geolocation data

Examples of what we collect: Coarse information (e.g. IP address), device location

Sources: Automatically from you

Purpose of collection and use: All purposes listed in How we use information

Retention considerations: Geolocation data is deleted at regular intervals when the information is no longer necessary for the purposes for which it is collected.

Commercial information

Examples of what we collect: Transaction information, billing records

Sources: Directly from you

Purpose of collection and use: All purposes listed in How we use information

Retention considerations: The law requires us to maintain purchase records for a period of time, which varies by state.

Employment information

Examples of what we collect: Employer name, job title, business contact information

Sources: Directly from you

Purpose of collection and use: All purposes listed in How we use information

Retention considerations: This information is generally retained for the duration of our relationship with the applicable client, business partner, or prospective client. When we no longer provide Services to you, we may still need this information for a period of time for business and legal requirements.

Sensitive information

Examples of what we collect: Password or credentials allowing access to an account

Sources: Directly from you

Purpose of collection and use: All purposes listed in How we use information

Retention Considerations: Certain information is maintained throughout our relationship with you in order to provide the Services. When we no longer provide Services to you, we may still need this information for a period of time for business and legal requirements.

Inferences

Examples of what we collect: Interests, preferences, consuming tendencies

Sources: Created about you based on information you provide; third parties

Purpose of collection and use: All purposes listed in How we use information

Retention considerations: Certain information is maintained throughout the life of our relationship with you in order to provide the Services.

California law also requires us to provide information regarding the criteria we use to determine the length of time for which we retain personal information. We utilize the following criteria to determine the length of time for which we retain personal information:

The business purposes for which the information is used, and the length of time for which the information is required to achieve those purposes.

Whether we are required to retain the information type in order to comply with legal obligations or contractual commitments, to defend against potential legal claims, or as otherwise necessary to investigate theft or other activities potentially in violation of our policies and procedures applicable to you or against the law, to ensure a secure online environment, or to protect health and safety.

The privacy impact of ongoing retention on you.

The manner in which information is maintained and flows through our systems, and how best to manage the lifecycle of information in light of the volume and complexity of the systems in our infrastructure.

Individual pieces of personal information may exist in different systems that are used for different business or legal purposes. A different maximum retention period may apply to each use case of the information. Certain individual pieces of information may also be stored in combination with other individual pieces of information, and the maximum retention period may be determined by the purpose for which that information set is used.

Sale, Sharing, and Other Disclosure of Personal Information and Right to Opt-Out

Any category of information listed in the chart above may be disclosed for a business purpose to service providers and contractors, which are companies or individuals that we engage to conduct activities on our behalf.

California law also requires us to provide you with information regarding the parties to whom we sell (disclosing personal information for monetary or other benefit) or share (disclosing personal information for purposes of cross-context behavioral advertising) your information. We use cookies and similar tracking technologies to operate and improve our Services, understand and analyze how individuals interact with our Services, personalize user experiences, and deliver advertising that may be more relevant to your interests. Under California law, some of these activities may constitute a “sale” or “sharing” of personal information. Specifically, we may sell or share personal information in the following ways:

Personal identifiers: Analytics and advertising partners

Internet or other similar network activity: Analytics and advertising partners

To opt out of the sale or sharing of your personal information via cookies, please use the Cookie preferences link in the website footer and set your preferences. Future Technologies does not have actual knowledge that it sells or shares the personal information of consumers under 16 years of age.

Additional Rights

Residents of California also have the right to access, correct, and delete certain personal information we collect about them. You or your authorized agent may submit a request to exercise your rights by emailing support@futuretechllc.com or by calling us at (770) 995-6070.

For your security and to ensure unauthorized third parties do not access your personal information, we will require you to verify your identity before we can act on your request. We do this by asking you to provide personal identifiers we can match against information we may have collected from you previously and confirm your request using the email account stated in the request.

While you also have the right to limit use of your sensitive personal information, we only process your sensitive personal information for purposes allowed by law and therefore do not offer an option to limit further processing.
